Event: INTA Conference
Attendees: 240

Case study

The brief

In conjunction with the International Trademark Association (INTA) conference in Seattle, Delegate wanted a remarkable event to leave a lasting impression on their clients. based in Belgium but with offices internationally, the company needed a Seattle-based expert to help pull it all together

The solution

Delegate hired SparkWood Events to manage several tactical and logistical elements including transportation from downtown Seattle to the event location, furniture rentals, catering, professional photography, and professional event staff for setup, social festivities, and boarding of aircraft. They chose to give their guests, who hailed from all over the world, a scenic float plane tour of Seattle. The hangar at Kenmore Air provided the perfect backdrop for a few hours of networking and refreshments on their ground before and after their unique experience.

Event: Annual Practitioners Summit
Attendees: 56

Case study

The brief

MWI Animal Health holds an annual Practitioners Summit in a different city each year. In addition to educational workshops for their veterinarian attendees, they wanted to offer a unique and one-of-a-kind cultural experience for their guests that would reflect the locale.

The solution

SparkWood Events created custom Seattle-inspired gift packages using local products to send out to the guests prior to the event. We also managed the RSVPs and guest list, set up Seattle experiences and planned the closing dinner celebration atop the tallest building in Seattle. A unique veterinary educational experience was desired, so we arranged for the group to travel via Washington State ferry to the Olympic and Kitsap Peninsulas to learn about a tribal salmon farming operation, including talks from a salmon veterinarian and nutritionists from both government and tribal entities. A small batch bourbon tasting was arranged and guests dined on local wild salmon at a boutique waterfront venue. For a memorable finale, guests enjoyed a sunset cocktail reception and dessert buffet aboard a chartered yacht.

Event: Fête le Market
Attendees: 250

The brief

The Foundation needed a professional touch to maximize the success of their Fete le Market, one of the major annual fundraisers for the organization. The Foundation is charged with managing several large events throughout the year and needed an extra hand to support 'Fête le Market'.

The solution

SparkWood Events came in as a sponsor of this worthwhile event to offer marketing and event planning services to this important Seattle area landmark. We worked hand-in-hand with the event team to develop impactful invitation messaging and consult on key marketing tactics and scripting. From an event planning perspective, we managed the layout and flow of the fundraiser, coordinated with vendors and other suppliers, and provided an on-site manager.
